

TheLondoner

Fabulous Christmas presents from some of London's top designers

Gifts galore

The Great Western Studios in Notting Hill is worth a visit if you are thinking of buying paintings. The studios are housed in a converted railway warehouse – and are now home to 140 artists and other creative businesses. Open studios are held twice a year offering an excellent opportunity to buy paintings and sculpture at good prices because there is no gallery to take a commission.

Ceramics, fashion, lighting and textiles will all be on sale as well, with prices ranging from £2 to £2,000. The doors open from midday to 6pm on Saturday 4 and Sunday 5 December. Great Western Studios, 34 Great Western Road, W9. Also visit www.greatwesternstudios.com.

For more information on buying unique designer goods visit www.creativelondon.org.uk or email info@creativelondon.gov.uk.